

Call Erasmus+

2026

Mobility project for higher education staff between FLACSO Ecuador and University of Opole, Poland.

The objective is to enable students of the Visual Anthropology Programme to study or receive training abroad as part of their academic and professional development in order to:

- Share their knowledge and perspectives in visual methodologies and ethnographic practices.
- Experience new learning environments and intercultural approaches.
- Acquire innovative pedagogical, curriculum design, and digital skills relevant to visual anthropology.
- Connect with peers abroad to develop joint activities aligned with the programme's objectives.
- Exchange good practices and strengthen cooperation between higher education institutions.
- Better prepare themselves for the professional and academic world.

Funding coverage:

- Round plane ticket (lump sum based on Erasmus+ distance calculator and travel cost rates).
- Individual mobility support: 800 EUR per month.
- Travel support: varies depending on the destination country.
- Fewer opportunities top-up: available if included in the agreement.

Important note:

- The minimum duration of a student mobility or internship is 60 days.
- Any shorter mobility will not be considered valid and will require the student to return the received scholarship.
- Scholarship details will be specified in the individual agreements signed with each student.

Application Date: 23.09.2026 – 09.10.2026

The number of quotas allocated for participation in the mobility program in the years 2025-2026 is the following:

- 2 students for Mobility to study at the hosting institution

Eligibility:

- Students enrolled in the Visual Anthropology Programme.

Required documents:

- Curriculum Vitae (CV).
- Photocopy of passport (first page).
- Motivation letter.
- Application form
- Erasmus+ Mobility Agreement (Student Mobility for Studies accepted by the sending institution).

Application documents should be sent to: Patricia Bermúdez, pbermudez@flacso.edu.ec, with a copy to the Partnerships, Projects and International Mobility Office at: internacionalizacion@flacso.edu.ec